Modern design, responsive and informative!

After a complete redesign with main focus on content and design, our new website presents itself in a fundamentally new look.

Beside the modern responsive design, special attention was given to product content, download area and a user friendly interface. You will get a detailed overview of our core competencies and the range of activities of Jenny Science AG.

ON TOP:

- On the main page, you get a detailed impression of our main strengths as e.g. our worldwide unique, patented force-distance measurement technology Forceteq®. Read on, it is definitely worth it.
- Use the new login area to get anytime access to the latest technical documents.
- Modern, attractive layout with precise product images.

Enjoy discovering our new website! You will see what is moving us and what we are moving.

Best regards,
Esther Zumstein
