The new LINAX® Lxs F60S, Lxu F60S and the Brake Energy Recovery Unit (BERU) 110V110J

Key Advantages of the LINAX® Lxs F60S and Lxu F60S:

- Single-cable solution for simplified installation and reduced cabling effort.
- Absolute measurement system: No referencing required.
- Enhanced stability with larger, more widely spaced guides for increased torque and load capacity.
- Ultra-compact (only 38 mm height) thanks to the “embedded” linear motor.

Highlights of the BERU 110V110J:

- Energy-saving with brake energy recovery.
- Compact design without braking resistors and no heat generation.
- Easily expandable with an external braking resistor for high loads.
- Connection option for up to four motors.
